Maks Fabiani Foundation announces the first edition of the Maks Fabiani Foundation Student Prize for the year 2021. The call for submission is open to the students in the final year of their Architecture or Urbanism Studies and the prize-winning work will be rewarded with 1500 €.

The purpose of The MFF Student Prize

The purpose of the MFF Student Prize is to encourage students to continue the work of Maks Fabiani and to further develop his architectural, urbanistic and philosophical heritage. The subject of the submitted work is to be contained within the Central European context, as the so-called Mitteleuropa was Fabiani's natural territory of work interest.

The theme of the submitted work

The work should concentrate on the relationship between the urban and rural areas. Both areas have undergone significant changes since the beginning of the pandemic. Their characteristics have changed, some elements of the urban design have gained a new meaning and diverse programs have found new ways of connecting and coexisting.

Basic work requirements

The prize will be awarded to the most outstanding conceptual plan of an urbanistic or architectural idea. It should be written in the form of an essay (3600-7000 characters without spaces, in Slovenian or English) with sketches (black-and-white, A4 paper size). The student is to present the basic idea of his or her project which either addresses the transformation of the relationship between the rural and urban areas in the light of current land planning developments and social needs or offers the redefinition of the urban planning in the cities on the one hand and in the villages on the other.

Work evaluation criteria

- intelligible outline and presentation of the concept
- argued choice of the location and the location itself
- inventive approach in understanding the work of Maks Fabiani
- structure, smoothness and compelling tone of the narrative
- original and intelligible sketches
